MISSION STATEMENT

The mission of La Vida Felicidad, Inc. is life quality for children and families, adults, and seniors, through advocacy and individualized services in collaboration with community partnerships.

PHILOSOPHY

La Vida Felicidad, Inc., is a non-profit agency that provides social services to individuals throughout New Mexico. Currently, those receiving services include: at-risk seniors, persons with developmental disabilities, and children and families.

A commitment to improving life quality is what drives the agency. But we are careful when providing services to be respectful of consumer and family choices. We retain the right to make mistakes in our own lives, and sometimes are quite good at it. We hold a philosophy that consumers are entitled to the same human dignities that we so nonchalantly enjoy, including the right to make mistakes and/or choices that we might not agree with.

We care about the integrity of the services we provide in the community. We will not grow the agency at the expense of quality services. Expansion occurs because of a community need for the increase in services, and not for any self-serving reason.

We try to be politically correct in how we speak about the people we serve, but also try to remember that proper terminology is not the only way to be respectful to consumers. The attitudes we hold and the interactions we engage in say so much more about our true intentions. We hope our philosophy encourages retention of consumer-centered staff.

The agency also encourages that we all try to remember to treat each other with the same respect and non-intrusiveness that we hold for consumers. We respect employee needs, such as family issues that involve child care, elder care, and family members with disabilities. We actively recruit minorities and persons with disabilities. Workplaces benefit from input of people with diverse cultures, backgrounds, and life experience.

When funding sources change their rules and regulations, it is sometimes difficult to adjust, but we try to remember that the receipt of funds brings a commitment to the terms associated with the funds. We continue working with funding sources as long as the benefits of specific funds outweigh the compliance issues. We communicate the associated difficulties to the funding sources in a way that promotes change and dialogue. We also recognize that sometimes there are limited resources to optimally operate programs, but we do the best we can in providing services with these funding limitations.

We encourage working and partnering with other community agencies. There is never a reason for unnecessary duplication of services. Collaboration and good inter-agency relationships often improve the quality and scope of the services provided.

And last, but not least, we know that we are not indispensable to consumers and families. And we are not here to become indispensable. Whenever possible, we assist consumers and families to need us less in their lives, not more. We try to remember to not let our egos get in the way of consumer-centered and family-centered services.

THE LA VIDA WAY

Guiding Ethics and Employee Code of Conduct for all La Vida Felicidad Employees

This code serves as a living document and reflects the commitment of the employees of La Vida Felicidad. As employees, we remain aware of and are committed in providing all services within the framework of our code of ethics.

Professionalism: We are professional staff members who demonstrate a commitment to our agency and its mission. We represent the agency by making sound decisions through our behaviors and interactions with others. We are respectful in our words, actions, dress and communication.

We recognize that a close-knit family atmosphere describes many of La Vida's staff relationships, and we realize that personal information passes between and amongst peers and colleagues. Degrading or demoralizing gossip prevents productive team functioning and damages healthy work relationships. Therefore, we respect each other's privacy, integrity and expressed boundaries.

Integrity: We recognize integrity is indispensable to our mission. We act with honesty and adhere to the highest standards of moral and ethical conduct. Through our integrity, we create an environment of trust which is essential to our personal and professional well-being. Our integrity shows in how we conduct ourselves as we sustain a culture that is based upon ethical conduct. We expect our actions to be consistent with our words, and our words to be consistent with our intentions. We accept our responsibilities and hold ourselves accountable for our words and actions.

Quality Services: We weave our code of ethics throughout our services performed to provide a high quality of services provided for each person served. Through our respect, integrity, accountability and professionalism we remain true to our mission.

Procedure for Code of Ethics Violations

Any violation of a Code of Ethics should be immediately reported to your immediate supervisor or the Executive Director. The Quality Assurance Director will investigate allegations of Code of Ethics violations and will present findings and recommendations to the Executive Director.

CRIMINAL HISTORY SCREENING

Per requirement of funding contracts, (State, Federal, Foundation, Municipalities) the employment of individuals with a conviction of certain crimes including prior history of child or adult abuse, violent crimes, neglect, or mistreatment is prohibited.

New Mexico State Law and La Vida require all employees to be fingerprinted and reserve the right to require independent contractors to be fingerprinted if they are contracted to provide direct care services to clients. These employees must undergo a nationwide criminal history screen. The purpose is to determine whether employees are eligible to provide services for the persons we serve.

In addition, La Vida reserves the right to terminate or withdraw an offer of employment based on results of internal criminal background checks conducted through the New Mexico Court System and/or the NM Department of Health's Criminal Caregivers Screening Registry and in compliance with the Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA).

DRIVING RECORD INVESTIGATION

Many positions at La Vida require the employee to operate a motor vehicle and therefore to have a valid New Mexico Driver's License. We strive to ensure the safety of individuals served who are provided services at La Vida. Therefore, any employee who will be operating an agency vehicle or operating a vehicle on behalf of La Vida will have his/her driving record checked upon his/her hiring and every year thereafter. Prior to active employment, all employees who are hired to work in positions which require operating an agency vehicle or operating a vehicle on behalf of La Vida must provide La Vida with a copy of the employee's current, valid New Mexico driver's license, and proof of current vehicle liability insurance. The Human Resource department will conduct new employee orientation.

Elements of new hire orientation will be documented, including a receipt of manual for employee and program policy manuals.

The employee's supervisor or their designee will provide programmatic and/or on the job training.

Employees will receive necessary equipment and resources to meet job responsibilities as soon as is appropriate.

REMOVAL OF BARRIERS

La Vida Felicidad, Inc. promotes accessibility for persons served, personnel and stakeholders within its organization by continuing to be actively involved in a process to remove architectural, attitudinal, environmental, communication, and other barriers.

SECTION 2: WORKING AT LA VIDA FELICIDAD, INC.

IMMIGRATION LAW COMPLIANCE

La Vida is committed to employing United States citizens, permanent residents of the United States, and other individuals who are legally authorized to work in the United States and does not unlawfully discriminate on the basis of citizenship or national origin.

In compliance with the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986, each new employee, as a condition of employment, must complete the Employment Eligibility Verification Form I-9 and present documentation establishing identity and employment eligibility. Former employees who are rehires must also complete the form if they have not completed an I-9 with La Vida within the past three years, or if their previous I-9 is no longer retained or valid.

ADA COMPLIANCE POLICY

La Vida continues to uphold its commitment to non-discrimination in all of its employment practices by striving to ensure that any individual with a disability will have equal access to any employment opportunity available to a similarly situated individual who is non-disabled. Accordingly, La Vida has incorporated the provisions of The Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990 and the State regulations of disability discrimination into its existing non-discriminatory practices.

All of La Vida's officers, directors and supervisors share in the responsibility of implementing and adhering to all components of this policy. This includes, but is not limited to, reasonably accommodating disabled individuals in recruitment, advertising, testing, hiring, training, termination, benefits, compensation and other terms, conditions and privileges of employment.

Any acts of unlawful discrimination should be promptly reported to the Executive Director. If an allegation of unlawful discrimination is made against the Executive Director, such allegation should be promptly reported to the President of the Board of Directors. An investigation will occur and appropriate action taken. Reasonable efforts shall be made to protect an employee and/or applicant from any type of coercion, intimidation, interference, or discrimination should she/she file a complaint or assist in an investigation of such a complaint in conjunction with upholding this policy.

SMOKING POLICY

Smoking or the use of tobacco products is prohibited in La Vida's building or agency vehicles by participants, visitors and employees (inclusive of electronic cigarettes/vaping). Smoking areas have been designated a reasonable distance away from La Vida buildings, entrances, windows and ventilations systems.

DRUG AND SUBSTANCE ABUSE POLICY

The Drug-Free Workplace Act of 1988 requires that all institutions receiving federal contracts of $25,000 or more, and all institutions receiving federal grants, provide a drug-free workplace. La Vida supports this requirement and is committed to a philosophy of maintaining a drug-free work environment for the safety and efficiency of agency employees and program participants. La Vida forbids the consumption, possession, sale, purchase of/or being under the influence of alcohol, illegal drugs, or inappropriate use of over the counter/prescription drugs at La Vida facilities, in its vehicles, or while conducting its business at any time in any place.

Reasonable suspicion of being under the influence of the above named substances will be investigated by human resources and program supervisor/director. Violation of this policy is cause for disciplinary action up to and including termination from employment.

La Vida reserves the right to have employees tested and screened for drug and/or alcohol use upon reasonable suspicion which suggests a violation of La Vida's drug and alcohol policy set forth above. A reasonable suspicion occurs when La Vida has specific, contemporaneous and/or articulable observations of behavior, appearance, odors and/or speech that suggest drug or alcohol use. In the event of a motor vehicle accident while driving a La Vida vehicle a mandatory drug/alcohol screen will occur at the expense of the agency. A mandatory drug/alcohol screen will occur at the expense of the agency for all new hires.

ATTENDANCE

In an effort to provide quality care to individuals and families served, to be respectful of co-workers, and to meet the needs of community and family members, we ask that employees make every effort to ensure regular attendance and promptness. Individuals served and their families rely on our attendance and punctuality when receiving services from us. Additionally, co-workers suffer the consequences of employee absences and tardiness. Therefore, employees are required to report to work on time and on a dependable basis. If an employee must be absent due to illness or other reason, the employee is required to report his/her impending absence or late arrival to his/her supervisor personally, prior to the start of the employee's regular work schedule or as soon thereafter as possible. An employee should always keep his/her supervisor advised on his/her planned return-to-work date. Employees failing to directly notify their supervisor or designee PRIOR to an absence may be subject to disciplinary action and leave without pay.

If a physician's documentation is required, the employee will be notified. Absence of two consecutive days or three non-consecutive days, during which no notification is given to an employee's supervisor or permission obtained, is considered job abandonment and voluntary resignation.

TIME SHEETS

All employees are required to keep a time sheet. This sheet is an employee's bill to the agency for services rendered, and as such, must be complete and accurate.

NON-EXEMPT employees may not work before their scheduled starting time or after their scheduled quitting time unless approved by their supervisor. Marking the time sheet of another employee, altering time sheets, repeatedly neglecting to follow proper time sheet procedures or failing to obtain proper authorization from supervisor as required by this policy will not be tolerated.

Any employees whose status is “non-exempt” according to FLSA may NOT work more than forty (40) hours per work week without their supervisor’s prior approval. The work week is defined as Sunday through Saturday. With supervisory approval, start and end times may vary throughout the week to accommodate the needs of service.

FLEXIBLE WORK WEEK

La Vida believes it is important to provide services to the community within typical business hours in an effort to accommodate the needs of individuals served and their families. Typical business hours for the community are Monday through Friday from 8:00 AM to 5:00 PM. La Vida also believes it is important to accommodate the needs of the staff.

Therefore, suggested daily work hours for SALARIED FULL-TIME employees at La Vida are: 7:30 AM to 3:30 PM with a 30 minute lunch, 8:00 AM to 4:00 PM with a 30 minute lunch, 8:30 AM to 4:30 PM with a 30 minute lunch, and 9 AM to 5 PM with a 30 minute lunch. La Vida requests that employees work with their supervisors in arranging a work schedule that best meets the needs of their program and that fits within these parameters.

Additionally, in keeping with La Vida’s policy of respecting individual staff needs with regard to family issues that involve childcare, elder care, and family members with special needs, employees may request an individualized work schedule that differs from the suggested daily work hours. Every effort will be made to accommodate these special requests. In case of a conflict between program needs and staff requests, La Vida reserves the right to maintain staff schedules that meet the needs of the individuals served and their families receiving services from La Vida.

The terminating employee's final paycheck will be issued at the next regular payroll date after separation of employment or in accordance with State law. Failure to provide adequate notice or resignation may result in being ineligible for rehire.

EXIT INTERVIEW

An employee is expected to participate in an exit interview with the Human Resources Specialist or his/her designee on the employee's last day of employment. Either prior to or during the exit interview arrangements shall be made for the return of Agency property, including but not limited to Agency-issued credit cards, office keys, company manuals and any additional Agency-owned or issued property.

Similarly, La Vida may terminate the employment relationship with an employee "at-will", at any time, with or without notice or cause, unless an express written contract has been executed, in which case the contract governs the nature of employment, so long as there is no violation of applicable federal or state law.

Policies set forth in this handbook are not intended to constitute contractual obligations of any kind or a contract of employment between La Vida and any of its employees.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

La Vida strongly believes that an important factor in delivering quality services to its program participants is the training and professional development provided for employees. Therefore, La Vida will encourage the professional growth and development of all employees as follows:

- Training utilizing a variety of techniques, such as employee meetings, webinars, ongoing seminars, guest speakers and review of professional literature.

However, it is the agency's policy not to allow overtime, unless there is prior written approval from the Executive Director through the employee's supervisor.

FILLING AGENCY VACANCIES

Openings for position vacancies will be posted internally at La Vida for a minimum of five working days. These position vacancies may also be advertised simultaneously through external media (website, online ad, etc.) Attempts will be made to interview applicants for these vacancies from within the agency and the local population, but such interviews may be extended to other geographical areas to assure obtaining the best-qualified candidates.

La Vida will make every effort to communicate open positions to the community; and will participate in such community awareness efforts as job fairs, listings in local publications and other local recruitment efforts.

Positions advertised through print media should include the words “Equal Opportunity Employer” as well as “Persons with disabilities encouraged to apply” within the text of the advertisement. This will help notify those seeking employment, as well as the general community, of La Vida’s commitment to The Americans With Disabilities Act (ADA) and to La Vida’s equal employment opportunity policy.

To be eligible for matching contribution by La Vida up to 2%, an employee must have one year of service with La Vida and be a SALARIED employee. Each eligible participant may elect to contribute any percentage or amount of their salary towards the plan. La Vida will match the employee's contribution up to two percent (2%) above his/her annual salary prorated monthly towards La Vida's 403(b) retirement plan. HOURLY employees are eligible for elective deferrals only. Monies contributed are held in a Trust until a participant's retirement, death, disability or severance from employment, except in the case of certain extreme financial hardship.

La Vida will pay the applicable set up fee when an employee is enrolled in the plan. However, this set up fee shall only be paid once by La Vida. Years of Service	Vested Interest
4	60%
5	80%
6	100%

Any part of the matching or non-elective contributions which is not vested will be forfeited when the employee terminates employment.

Employees should consult with their tax advisor to determine their personal tax situation before taking any distribution from the Plan. Please see a Director for reference to the 403B Plan Summary for details on withdrawing contributions and the tax amounts required.

STATUTORY BENEFITS

Some of the benefits to which an employee is entitled is established by law and administered by federal and state agencies. Among these are: Worker's Compensation, Social Security, and Unemployment Compensation.

La Vida pays the full cost of an employee's Worker's Compensation insurance and an employee's Unemployment Compensation benefits except with respect to Professional Service Contracts. La Vida also contributes to an employee's Social Security benefits except with respect to Professional Service Contracts (Independent Contractors).

WORKERS' COMPENSATION

All employees are covered from their first day of employment under workers' compensation insurance, which covers industrial injury or disease/illness resulting from work activity or the work environment. There is no cost to the employee for this insurance. All lost time, medical expenses and loss of life or dismemberment from an injury arising out of or in the course of work are compensated through worker's compensation.

If you experience a life/limb threatening injury on the job, first seek immediate medical attention at the nearest emergency room or wherever it is available. All employees must then notify their supervisor as well as La Vida Human Resources Department within 24 hours of the time the injury occurred.

If the injury is not life/limb threatening, the employee should contact La Vida to discuss the selection of a health care provider. La Vida reserves the right to either initially select an authorized health care provider or give that right to first selection to the injured worker. If La Vida waives that right, the injured worker can seek immediate medical attention at the nearest emergency room, primary care physician, or one of the approved medical providers through New Mexico Mutual Casualty. The initial selection is in effect for at least the first 60 days.

La Vida must notify the employee in writing of its decision to select the initial healthcare provider or to give that selection to the worker. If written notice is not given to the worker, the selection of the worker will be considered the selection of the employer as well. La Vida reserves the right to require a drug test and/or alcohol test at the time treatment is sought, in certain instances.

Emergency Medical Care is not to be considered a choice of treating health care provider by the Employer or Worker.

The employee is responsible for writing the Notice of Accident or Occupational Disease Disablement Form and getting it the Human Resources Specialist at La Vida within 15 days. Verbal notice may constitute actual notice, but only if it puts the employer on notice regarding the time, place and circumstances of a work accident. An employer's knowledge of an injury, without relation to a work accident is insufficient notice. Written notice is not required if the employer or supervisor has actual knowledge of the accident. Notice must be given to the employer or supervisor. Notice to a co-worker is not considered valid notice.

The First Report of Injury is completed by La Vida and is sent to the insurance carrier. This starts the workers' compensation claim.

There is a seven day waiting period for payment of compensation. The first installment is no later than 14 days after the worker has missed seven days of lost time from work, whether or not the days or consecutive. Remaining installments are paid bimonthly.

The party that did not make the initial selection has the right of second selection. After at least 60 days, a redirection of medical care to another health care provider, who will remain the authorized treating health care provider for the remainder of the injury. A Notice of Change of Healthcare Provider will be completed. The first appointment with the new health care provider can be no sooner than 10 days from the receipt by the other party the notice of change.

The party receiving the Notice of Change of Health Care Provider can file an objection with the NM Workers' Compensation Administration. The Administration will set a hearing before a Judge within 7 days. A Notice of Health Care Provider Disagreement can be filed by either party at any time if there is a disagreement on the choice of health care provider. The party filing the disagreement will bear the burden showing that the change in healthcare provider is not reasonable or necessary.

An injured worker is required to notify the employer/insurer within (15) days of any return to work release. If the injured worker is working (even part-time) they are required to notify the insurance company. If the injured worker is missing time from work, it is very important that they contact their adjuster after every doctor's visit.

For further information on injuries while on-the-job, please contact the Human Resources Department at (505) 565-1614. You may ask to speak with the Human Resources Specialist for further details.

Family and Medical Leave will run concurrently with any leave associated with a workers' compensation injury.

The family and medical leave will be unpaid leave unless the employee has a personal leave balance available to use during the period of leave. At the conclusion of the leave of absence, the employee will be guaranteed reinstatement to either the same or similar position at the same rate of pay and the same benefits.

To be eligible for a Family/Medical Leave of Absence, an employee must have worked for La Vida at least 12 months and at least 1250 hours during the year preceding the start of family/medical leave.

An eligible employee is entitled to family/medical leave for one or more of the following reasons:

1. The birth and care of a child of the employee;
2. The placement of a child with the employee for adoption or foster care;
3. To care for the spouse, son, daughter, or parent of the employee if such spouse, son, daughter or parent has a serious health condition; or
4. because of a serious health condition that makes the employee unable to work.

An employee on family and medical leave will be paid for the leave only as follows:

Any available balance of personal leave shall be applied against a period of family and medical leave, which is taken for any qualifying reason;

Employees must provide their immediate supervisor with a 30-day advance notice for the birth or adoption of a child or planned medical treatment. (This advance notice should be in writing.) In cases where the employee cannot provide 30 days advance notice, such as in the cases of premature birth, notice must be given as soon as practicable, or usually within one to two business days. In cases of medical emergencies, notice may be given in person or by telephone within one or two days.

Requests for a family/medical leave relating to the employee's serious health condition may be made by the employee and must be substantiated by medical certification from the employee's health care provider, which must provide for an estimated duration of the leave required. An employee on medical leave is expected to return to work as soon as it is determined that he/she is medically able. He/she must have a certification from his/her health care provider giving complete clearance to return to work.

The ordinary maximum length of time for a family/medical leave of absence is 12 weeks. Extensions may be made only with the approval of the Executive Director.

La Vida shall guarantee a position to an employee on a family/medical leave for up to 12 weeks or the duration of any approved extension of family and medical leave. The guaranteed position will be the same position the employee left at the beginning of the family/medical leave of absence, if possible. The position will be in the same location, with the same responsibilities, authority, pay, and benefits, if possible. However, in some instances, it may be impossible to return to the specific position left at the beginning of the leave. In these cases, the employee will be offered an equivalent position at the same rate of pay, with the same benefits, and, if possible, the same duties, authority and responsibility. If the employee declines to accept an alternative position, the employee's employment will be terminated. There usually can be no guarantee of the same hours. If an employee does not return from family and medical leave after 12 weeks or after the conclusion of an approved extension of leave, the employee will be considered to have resigned.

The employee must notify the Executive Director in writing at least ten (10) working days prior to the end of the family/medical leave of his/her intention to return. (If the leave is of short duration, i.e., 10-15 days, this 10-day notice may be waived. The intent of the notice requirement is to allow the department supervisor time to make any needed scheduling arrangements. Ideally, the employee on family/medical leave will stay in touch regularly with the department supervisor regarding his/her progress and plans.) When family and medical leave is taken for an employee's own serious health condition, the written notification shall be accompanied by a certification from a health care provider indicating that the employee may return to work and verifying the proposed date of return. Failure to provide this certification may result in termination.

Benefits during Family/Medical Leave

- Employees will not borrow or lend money to, individuals or families who receive services from La Vida

If a consumer or his/her family requests private therapy with a specific therapist or requests additional homemaker/personal care services, the Executive Director is to be notified, in writing, by the employee to whom the request was made. The following guidelines will be followed by the Executive Director in considering such a request; however, the Executive Director has the discretion to approve or disapprove the request:

- Reasonable assurance that the consumer or his/her family initiated the request.
- Offering the consumer or his/her family a list of other resources available in meeting his/her request.
- The employee will provide a release of liability form to the Executive Director, signed by the consumer or the consumer's guardian, if applicable, and the employee prior to such private employment.
- Prior to such private employment, clear liability is to be determined through a schedule specifically setting forth when the consumer or his/her family is receiving services through La Vida and when the consumer or his/her family is receiving services through private employment.

SECTION 8: PERSONNEL RECORDS AND MATTERS

An employee file will be maintained on each employee which will contain factual information on each employee's employment at La Vida which may include, but not be limited to, the employee's application, references, copies of transcripts and/or diplomas, the date the employee began work, the employee's wage rate, etc. It may also contain information about

- Job performance
- Notices of personnel action
- Reports of any disciplinary action
- Wage increases, recognition and awards received
- Suggestions an employee may have submitted to management.

It is the responsibility of each employee to provide current information to keep the file up-to-date at all times. An employee may review his/her file, excluding any information the Executive Director deems confidential, which may include, but not be limited to reference checks and background information. The file review must be in the presence of a designated person from management. The employee must schedule an appointment in advance.

PERFORMANCE REVIEWS AND MERIT INCREASES

Individual job performance is reviewed upon completion of the first ninety (90) days of employment. A supervisor may choose to also provide an initial six (6) month review. An annual review will be provided on the anniversary of the date of hire. Performance reviews are prepared by the immediate supervisor and provide information to the employee about his/her job performance. The employee is also required to complete a self-evaluation at the time of performance evaluation. These performance evaluations are reviewed with the employee and shall be signed by both the employee and supervisor.

The expectations, goals and objectives for each employee shall be stated as part of the evaluation and subsequent evaluations shall measure the outcome of the stated expectations, goals and objectives.

Depending upon performance, funding and budgetary limitations, an employee is eligible for a merit review and increase twelve (12) months from the date of hire and at twelve (12) month intervals thereafter. If, however, an employee receives a salary increase or adjustment as the result of promotion, demotion or reassignment prior to the annual merit review date, the effective date of the promotion, demotion or reassignment and any resulting salary adjustment shall become the new annual merit review date. Merit increases are on performance evaluation ratings and on required training hours documented for the evaluation period. All merit increases are subject to approval by the Executive Director and are subject to budgetary limitations.

Each employee is encouraged to contribute his/her own comments and suggestions during the review. Increases and promotions are based in part on La Vida's view of individual performance in such areas as:

- Quality of work
- Productivity
- Initiative
- Teamwork
- Job knowledge/skills
- Safety
- Cooperation and attitude with others
- Ability to follow policies and procedures
- Ability to follow chain of command
- Attendance and punctuality.

DISCIPLINARY ACTIONS

Employment at La Vida is not for a fixed and definite period and may be terminated at any time with or without cause or notice. La Vida has procedures that represent the agency's general approach to disciplinary matters. They do not constitute a promise of progressive disciplinary procedures or a commitment to treat any given situation in a particular way, nor do they create a contractual obligation on the part of La Vida. These procedures are matters within La Vida's discretion and may be unilaterally modified or revoked at any time. The following procedures may be considered in disciplinary matters, may or may not be applied and if applied, one or more may be applied in any order:

- Oral warning and/or counseling
- Written warning and counseling
- A period of monitored performance
- Suspension without pay
- Demotion and/or reassignment
- Termination

TERMINATION FROM EMPLOYMENT

Termination from employment may be the consequence of failure to respond to corrective discipline or due to employee misconduct, due to operational necessity, or any other reason deemed important by management.

Management may require additional time to investigate whether termination is warranted. In these situations, an employee may be suspended with pay while a prompt investigation is conducted.

The Executive Director or assigned Director/Manager will make the final termination from employment determination and will take into account the recommendation of the employee's immediate supervisor and Human Resources.

SECTION 9: GRIEVANCE PROCEDURES

HANDLING COMPLAINTS AND EMPLOYEE GRIEVANCES

Problems or misunderstandings arise occasionally in every organization. These may relate to work assignments, advancements, wages or any other work-related issue. No matter what the nature of a particular problem, if it is important to the employee, then it is important to management, and the employee should have a full opportunity for discussion and consideration. Failure to follow the proper grievance procedures shall not be tolerated. The following is La Vida's procedure to allow employees to bring problems and complaints to the agency for review and resolution:

Problems or misunderstandings arise occasionally in every organization. These may relate to work assignments, advancements, wages or any other work-related issue. No matter what the nature of a particular problem, if it is important to the employee, then it is important to management, and the employee should have a full opportunity to attempt to resolve their concern. Please be sure to follow the procedures below, to ensure the best outcomes for everyone. The following is La Vida's procedure for resolving employee problems and complaints:

- Step 1. Try to discuss and resolve your grievance with the other person involved.

- Step 2. Talk to your supervisor about the problem. Your supervisor will try to find win-win outcomes that resolve the problem, if possible. If your problem or concern is with your supervisor then skip Step 2 and proceed with the steps below.

- Step 3. If these steps haven't resolved the problem or concern, speak directly with someone in the Human Resources department about it, and work with this individual to try to find a win-win resolution, if possible. Please provide possible solutions. The Human Resources staff person, as part of an investigation, may gather information and work with others in the organization to attempt to find a resolution. In some cases, you may feel that it could cause problems to talk to HR staff in the first place; if this is so, proceed with the next steps.

- Step 4. If the prior steps haven't resolved the problem or concern, talk to the supervisor of the person about whom you have the problem or concern, if applicable. If this doesn't work or your supervisor and the supervisor of the person about whom you have a problem or concern are the same, then take your concern to the Executive Director, "ED". The ED will investigate the matter and will attempt to find a win-win solution for those involved.

- Step 5. If these steps don't work, or if your concern is regarding the ED, then you are encouraged to contact the President of the Board, and share your concerns with the Board President in writing. The Board President will consider your concerns.

The Board President will need to gather information about all sides of the issue so a full investigation can be completed. Work with the Board President so this investigation can be done effectively and efficiently. The Board President will take the results of the investigation to the Executive Committee, and they will discuss the best possible win-win resolution, if possible.

Step 6. If the Executive Committee can't find a solution that resolves the issue, then you are encouraged to ask the Executive Committee, in writing, to take the issue to the entire Board. The decision of the Board will be final and binding.

La Vida will not permit any employment based retaliation against an employee who brings up an employee problem or who speaks as a witness in any investigation.

SEXUAL, RACE AND NATIONAL ORIGIN HARASSMENT

It is a very serious violation of La Vida's policy to sexually harass any employee either verbally or physically, or to harass any employee regarding race, religion, national origin, age, sex, veteran status or disability or any other legally protected characteristics. This is an invasion of the employee's individual rights, and it is against the law.

Sexual harassment has been defined as (but is not necessarily limited to) verbal, written or physical conduct of a sexual nature and/or unwelcome sexual advances or requests for sexual favors when any of the following occur:

1. Submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly as a term or condition of an individual's employment.
2. Submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as a basis for employment decisions affecting such individual.
3. Such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with the individual's work performance or creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive work environment.

If an employee feels he/she is being sexually harassed, it is important that the employee report it to the Executive Director immediately upon its occurrence or as soon as possible thereafter. If an employee feels he/she is being sexually harassed by the Executive Director, it is important that the employee report it to the President of the Board of Directors immediately upon its occurrence or as soon as possible thereafter.

Harassment based on race, religion, national origin, ancestry, sexual orientation, spousal affiliation, gender identity, age, veteran status or disability or other legally protected characteristics is also strictly prohibited, and should be reported immediately to the employee's supervisor or the Executive Director immediately upon its occurrence or as soon as possible thereafter. If the employee feels such harassment is from the Executive Director, it should be reported immediately to the President of the Board of Directors or as soon as possible thereafter.

La Vida is genuinely concerned with ensuring a safe and comfortable atmosphere for its employees. Harassing another employee violates this philosophy and will not be tolerated.

It is the La Vida's policy to act quickly when advised of any sexual harassment or other harassment incident. Attempts will be made to keep reports confidential.

SECTION 10: GENERAL INFORMATION TO KEEP YOU INFORMED

BULLETIN BOARDS/MAILBOXES

La Vida has a bulletin board centrally located at each facility. Some employees will have assigned mailboxes. The bulletin board and mailboxes are official business communications centers to keep employees informed of important agency news.

The agency bulletin board and mailboxes are provided to keep employees up-to-date on La Vida's policies, safety rules and regulations, work rules, job postings and other items of general interest. Employees should check the bulletin board and their mailboxes often and read the information carefully. Employees should not place personal notices, solicitations, or any material that could be construed as offensive, in poor taste or expressing personal views or opinions on the bulletin board or in mailboxes.

La Vida provides suggestion boxes at each facility to give employees an opportunity to voice their opinion in a confidential manner. Suggestions are reviewed by the Quality Assurance Team each month and, if appropriate, recommendations are then made.

La Vida regards the work place as belonging to the agency and as such, employees should not expect a right to privacy in connection with assigned cubbies or La Vida's computers.

TELEPHONES/CELL PHONES

Telephones/cell phones are to be used to conduct Agency business. La Vida requires that employees keep their personal phone calls to an absolute minimum during working hours. Long distance calls shall not be made except to conduct Agency business.

The policies in this manual shall continue in effect until modified as provided in the following paragraphs.

- * Any policy which is declared by federal or state government to be illegal shall immediately become null and void. The voiding of any one policy for this reason in no way nullifies any other part of this manual.
- * Periodic modifications by the Board of Directors will be required to adjust to changing conditions and regulations. Changes or additions will become effective when notice of changes is given by La Vida to the employee(s) covered.
